BIOGRAPHY

Wesley Allen's practice focuses on civil litigation with an emphasis on education matters. Wesley has several years of insurance defense experience, where he represented both corporate and individual clients in civil matters in state and federal courts throughout the Commonwealth and in the District of Columbia. Wesley's prior experience as an administrator at Rowan University provides him a unique insight as a former practitioner within a complex educational institution, which greatly benefits his current practice.

Wesley Allen has been an active member of the Fairfax Bar Association, the Prince William County Bar Association, and the Virginia Association of Defense Attorneys (VADA). Wesley served on the Young Lawyers Section's Board of Directors of the Fairfax Bar Association, and he has chaired the Automobile and Transportation Liability Section of the VADA.

Wesley has been named a "Rising Star" by Super Lawyers Magazine.

Prior to joining Blankingship & Keith, Wesley graduated with a Master of Education from Harvard University, where he focused on the management, governance, and leadership of education administration. Wesley earned his law degree from the William & Mary School of Law, where he served as Managing Editor of the William & Mary Journal of Women and the Law, and he completed a clerkship with the Honorable Mary Grace O'Brien during her tenure on the Prince William County Circuit Court bench.
