Conrad J. Wight focuses on civil litigation at Blankingship & Keith. He joined the firm as a law clerk and will become an associate upon admission to the Virginia Bar.

Conrad earned his J.D. with Highest Honors from The George Washington University Law School, where he was elected to the Order of the Coif. Prior to joining the firm, Conrad built his skills at the Antitrust Division of the Department of Justice, the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia, the Office of the U.S. Attorney for the Northern District of Ohio, and in private practice with securities litigation boutique Levi & Korsinsky, LLP.

Conrad also served as an Associate Editor of The George Washington International Law Review and as a member of the Mock Trial Board while in law school. Before law school, Conrad worked in sales and marketing in the technology and insurance industries. His business experience informs his goal-oriented approach to litigation. Originally from the Chicago area, Conrad also holds a B.A. in Economics from the University of Wisconsin–Madison.
